

CASEY

Graphic Design and Illustration Graduate

Hello everybody, my name is Casey! When I finished my GCSE's, I went on to do A Levels at a sixth form college in a different town from where I lived. I really enjoyed studying somewhere completely new. It meant I only knew one or two people at my college, but I quickly made new friends! I didn't do too well with my A Levels and I definitely didn't get the grades I was hoping for - however, I didn't let that stop me from going to university!

In college, I quickly discovered my love for design, and I knew that was what I wanted to study at degree level - so I did! I really enjoyed my 3 years at university and the support I received from my lecturers was priceless. I am now a Graphics and Illustration graduate and I'm definitely proud of my achievements so far.

I still use the skills I learnt during my course today, whether that's when producing work for design commissions, or producing media for our 'University Insiders' team!
